ABOUT AOIL

Launched on 19th April 2015, the incarnation of the Association of Indian Laboratories, as a non-profit making body, has provided a forum to the laboratory fraternity to come under one umbrella, and face problems collectively while sharing fruits of the resultant benefit together. Association of Indian Laboratories (AOIL) is a legitimate registered organisation having its headquarters at Gurugram, with registration number being HR018201401605. As of now, laboratories from more than 10 states have joined hands in formation of the Association, a commendable solidarity displayed by the laboratories in such a short period.

AOIL MISSION

Create a platform for:

- > Exchange of Ideas
- > Building Relationships
- > Feedback to Accreditation Body
- > Laboratory Concerns
- > Laboratory Competence

OBJECTIVES OF AOIL

The objectives of the association are scientific, educational and charitable in nature, so as to serve the interest of the laboratories with focus being:

- > To promote co-operative efforts to identify common problems faced by the member laboratories and arrive at the possible solutions.
- > To maintain liaison / relationship with the technical and scientific associations, accreditation bodies of the country and laboratory associations having common interests worldwide.
- > To assist and provide required inputs to Central Government Authorities and State Authorities, Private and Public Sector Organisations, in developing the policies related to laboratories.
- > To maintain the highest standard of professional and ethical conduct in laboratories in general, and amongst its members in particular.
- > To facilitate Inter Laboratory Comparison / Proficiency Testing and Training activities amongst the member laboratories.

AOIL has been accepted as a stakeholder member of ILAC (International Laboratory Accreditation Cooperation) and is taking active interest in policy making and safeguarding the interests of Indian Laboratories. AOIL has also been invited to the NABL (National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories) Board and its representatives attend the meetings regularly.

Its headquarters is at Gurugram, while the regional offices are based at New Delhi, Mumbai, Chennai, and Bengaluru. AOIL publishes a quarterly newsletter besides organizing International and National Seminars, workshops and training programs for the benefits of its members.
